In France, nearly 12 million people live with a disability, and more than 90% of people with additional accessibility needs look for accessibility information before travelling to a venue. Without this information, many decide not to attend or have a less positive experience once there.

Picto Access, available at Lille Grand Palais, directly addresses this need. Following a comprehensive venue assessment covering around 100 criteria, including step-free access, lifts, signage, lighting, hearing loops and reserved spaces, it presents accessibility levels through a set of eight colour-coded pictograms :

Green : Accessible independently.
Orange : Accessible with assistance.
Red : Not currently accessible.

Clear information to help everyone feel welcome.
